

##so here i am adding a screenshot of a learning agent :

as we have learnt model based agents have memory (internal state) of interaction with the user they dont just depend on current state but also on previous interactions!!